The Concure Group's Genesis Admix is a ready to use, liquid concrete waterproofing admixture containing a blend of organic and inorganic chemicals for replacing externally applied treatments to protect concrete structures against moisture transmission. Genesis is added to the concrete mix at the batch plant or can be added on site. Genesis generates non-soluble mineral formations and insoluble membranes in pores, capillaries and micro-cracks becoming an integral component within the concrete.

The Concure Group's Genesis Admix is designed for addition to any Portland cement-based concrete design for enhanced water/vapor proofing properties.
